General Information.

LOCATION.

HICKORY ACADEMY is located at Hickory, Mt. Pleasant Township, Washington County, Penn'a., surrounded by a beautiful and fertile region. The town is noted for the high moral tone of its citizens, its excellent society, and healthfulness. A large and well furnished building has been erected in order to accommodate the rapid increase of students.

HISTORY AND AIM.

On September 5, 1891, the first steps were taken by the people of Hickory and vicinity to establish in their midst an institution of learning. On September 21 of the same year, the first term of Hickory Academy was opened in the building now occupied by the post-office, Prof. B. B. Wolf, Principal.

The aim of the institution, as then manifested, is to give young men and women a practical education and preparation for college or seminary. Since its organization, over two hundred students have been in attendance; fifty have graduated. Of these students, two have entered the ministry, one the profession of law, six the profession of medicine and dentistry, eighteen have graduated from college and seminary or are in attendance; over fifty are teachers, and many others successful farmers, mechanics, clerks, etc.

The curriculum of the classical course is in accordance with that of our leading colleges preparatory to the Freshman year.

Thorough work is the motto, and many of the graduates have taken honors in higher institutions.

The Principals have been:

1891-'94—B. B. Wolf, now pastor Methodist Church, East End, Pittsburg, Pa.

1894-'95—W. A. H. McIlvaine, attorney-at-law, Washington, Pa.

1895-'96—R. M. Offutt, pastor Presbyterian Church, Rudolf, O.

1896-'97—H. B. McElree, Principal of Kittanning Academy.

1897-'98—F. C. McGill, Principal High School, Bellaire, Ohio.

1898-1900.—A. M. Reed, Principal Hickory Academy.
