The bride, dressed in white brocade satin, with the newly married husband, received the congratulations of the entire company. Then came the wedding supper. A correspondent writes: Among the most pleasing social events of last week was the Laning-Johnston wedding at the home of the bride's parents in Mt. Pleasant township, near Venice, Thursday, November 4. At noon on that day occurred the marriage of Mary, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darlington Johnston, to J. J. Laning of Odell, O. About 90 friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony. At 11:30 as the strains of the Lohengrin bridal march poured forth, as rendered in a pleasing manner by Emma Herriott, the groom led forth the bride to the lawn under a cloudless sky, preceded by Emmet Johnston, brother of the bride, and wife, and there the ceremony was performed by Rev. W. A. McConnell of Hickory, assisted by Rev. Samuel Conner of the Reformed Presbyterian church of Venice. After receiving congratulations and best wishes of those present the bride and groom led the way to the diningroom, where an elegant dinner was served. The bride wore a white silk dress trimmed in lace and ribbon and carried white roses. The bridesmaid wore yellow silk and carried yellow roses. Numerous presents were received. The newly married couple left Monday for Odell, O., where they were received by a large crowd at the home of the groom's parents.

A GAY WEDDING.

Marriage of Mr. J. B. Miller, of Baltimore, to Miss Clara S. Smith, of Allegheny City.

Among the many weddings which Christmas day witnessed, that of Miss Clara S. Smith, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Smith, of Arch street, Allegheny, to Mr. J. B. Miller, of Baltimore, a member of the well known oil firm of A. D. Miller & Sons, of Allegheny, was the leading event.

The ceremony, which took place at 6:30 at the residence of the bride's parents, was performed by Dr. W. H. McMillan, assisted by Prof. McClenahan, of the U. P. seminary. At the appointed hour the bride and groom descended to the parlors, preceded by two ushers, Messrs. Frank Gill and J. C. Reed, and were united in marriage before an assemblage of relatives. The bridal costume was of heavy cream-colored satin; skirt trimmed to extensive length, the front trimmed in lace, bodice high and finished in lace. No veil was worn; a bouquet of white roses and a diamond pin, the gift of the groom, completed the charming toilet.

In the pocket of her rich gown the bride carried a silver spoon "for luck." The spoon has been in the family for five generations, and has been carried in the pockets of the wedding gowns of the bride's mother, grandmother, and great grandmother. Three of the mated pairs have borne the name of Miller, but without any relationship to each other. After the ceremony a brief reception was held, followed by a supper served in excellent style, after which the evening was spent in general festivity.

The presents received by the young couple were many and varied and included a solid tea set, silver water sets, fruit dishes, knives and spoons, bronze cut glass, linen, pictures and brick-a-brack. These were on display in an upper room and were greatly admired. The newly wedded pair departed on a southern trip. Their future home will be in Baltimore.

Guests present at the wedding were: Capt. A. D. Miller and family, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Miller and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Miller, Jr., and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Scott and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Deveny and family, of Salineville, O.; Miss Buckley, of Kentucky; Rev. H. H. Bell, Mr. White, Mr. D. T. McCalmont, Mr. E. E. Stewart, Mrs. Andrew Russell and son Robert, of Washington, Pa.; Miss Lizzie Miller, Miss Belle Henry, of Bellevue; Miss Beckie Miller, Mrs. M. A. McFadden, Misses Jennie Aggie and Master Walter McFadden, Miss Graham, Mr. J. C. Reed, Mr. Frank Gill, Mr. M. H. Reed.
